RED CROSS NOTES

During the week of September 1st it was announced in the columns of the Recorder that a public meeting was to be held in the offices of the town, on Monday September 25, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society in Bassano.

The response to that meeting by way of attendance was far in excess of the expectations of those who were responsible for it. So many persons turned out that it was soon apparent that the offices of the town were not near spacious enough. Consequently the meeting was moved to the I.O.O.F. Hall, where in the more roomy surroundings a very interesting organizational meeting was held.

Since that time work in the Red Cross local has progressed very rapidly, under the guidance of a very capable executive. Most noticeable of all the achievements in the selection of a headquarters, and work shop. On main street was a small vacant building that appeared to be in very poor repair. With the kind co-operation of the town council, this building was selected by the branch, and the subsequent alterations have been made in the building is hardly believable. The building has been decorated inside and out, transforming its appearance from a shabby, dilapidated, to that of a comfortable place that is a credit to any town or organization. A brand new asphalt roof was also part of the improvements made. A white front, trimmed in red, has already attracted considerable comment.

In this building last Monday night a very interesting and enthusiastic meeting was held, which brought together all those persons in town and surrounding districts who have been selected as members of the campaign committee. Following a short opening address by Mr. A. McKee, the meeting adopted a very informal aspect, during which almost everyone present took part in the discussion.

The result of the meeting was the announcement of the names which have been appointed to carry the district, as well as the towns. These teams, of which a complete list appears below, will cover the district in the next few days and it is hoped they will meet with the same success that the local organization has enjoyed so far. Although each team has a specific district to canvass, anyone desirous of donating to the local branch, and having not been contacted by one of the teams, may call at the local headquarters, located on main street, where their donations will be cheerfully received.

The office is located on the third floor west of the Recorder office.

Armistice Service Well Attended

A large crowd assembled at the Anglican Church on Saturday morning to remember the Armistice which ended the war on November 11, 1918. In France. Although the world is again in a terrible truce the rebelling memory of that cessation of hostilities at the end of the last war lends a ray of light to the down-hearted, who believe the promise war will last a long period of time.

The Congregation's singing of praises was greatly supplemented by the combined choir of the Presbyterian and Anglican Churches.

Rev. J. H. Taylor, local incumbent delivered a forceful talk, paying a great tribute to the morale of our people and soldiers in the last war. Rev. Taylor began his remarks by first pointing out the symbols of peace and the symbols of war. He then pointed out the symbols of the unknown soldiers, using himself as a preacher, as one who took the blame. Canada is slowly forgetting the lessons of the last war, and the Canadian citizen would not remember those who fought and pray that the present outbreak of hostilities in Europe should soon stop.

The customary two-minute silence was observed at 11 a.m., with the interval being broken by a well known verse, a rhetorical tribute to our fallen soldiers.

The service was well attended by both veterans and citizens of the district. Concluding the service, the National Anthem was sung.

Mrs. Jeanne Gable, of Coanville, who has been visiting her parents for the past two weeks, is returning to Great Falls, Mont., on Saturday.

Drive Under Way

WHILE THE WAR in which Canada, as a Dominion, has been plunged is not very old, people have already seen how quickly the Canadian Red Cross Society can gear its machinery into war-time strength. First steps in speeding up the work of the Society were taken before Canada's actual declaration of war on Germany, when the sinking of the Athenia brought assistance in various forms to stricken passengers. Answering a first call, the Society cabled $10,000 to Britain for the relief of Athenia survivors, and when the first of these reached Canada, the Red Cross was there to meet them with all the supplies and assistance that were necessary. That was the first step for the Canadian Red Cross Society, in a work that will not end until the war is over. Since then, the Society has concentrated its efforts in organizing branches in all rural and urban centres in the Dominion, for the purpose of securing finances, and accomplishing necessary duties and services that the central organization could not succeed in doing alone. These duties include the making of sweaters, socks and mitts, not to mention medical supplies of various types, for soldiers.

True enough, there are other organizations in Canada which do similar work, but at this time we have an opportunity to solidly support a national organization which has pledged itself to assist all persons in this country's service, both at home and abroad, and in the last war, did just this.

However to successfully carry out its services, the Red Cross Society must have funds, and these funds must come from the citizens of Canada. This week a drive was started in an effort to raise some three million dollars to be used in the purchase of necessities for the soldiers. In the opening days, generous contributions were received from many Canadian companies, not to mention personal contributions from "well-off" individuals. However, it will be relied upon that a very great share of the sum will come from the pennies, nickles and dimes, and other small donations which within a short time will aggregate into an exceedingly large sum. These small contributions will be collected by just such groups as our own here in Bassano.

Locally, groups have been organized to canvass the district. It is the object of officers of the group to see that all homes and business places in the district have been approached for a contribution, be it large or small. Let us all feel that it is our duty to contribute our share when we are called upon.

Talk of Election

TALK OF AN Election in Alberta prior to the expiration of the full five year term of the Aberhart government is again circulating. At the outbreak of war, impressions given by the government were contrary to this, and consequently opposition had temporarily called a truce, in order to offer no hindrance to the process of putting the Dominion on an effective war basis.

The rumor going the rounds indicates that a sudden election may be called early in the new year. The Vulcan Advocate comments editorially on the question as follows:

"A circular has been sent out through the country warning Social Credit branches of the imminence of an election. It says: '1940 is the year for a provincial election. Victories are only won by preparedness.' The efficiency of our organization must be such as to leave no possible doubt as to the result in the next election. The new redistribution has necessitated a change in constituency boundaries, and in order to avoid confusion in 1940 each constituency should now be completely organized within the new boundaries. The next election is not only a test of numerical strength but one of intelligence on the part of those who desire a specific result."

The article continues, saying that this can only be interpreted as a call to arms, and is a signal to opposing organizations to resume high-powered activity. The records of the government during the past five years will be presented and adjudged—perhaps within two or three months, perhaps not for six months.

Who Wouldn't

THE EDITOR of the Canmore Canadian wants to know why people swear. We are surprised that a newspaper editor should ask such a question.

Anyone that has had to do business with such cranky stuff as printing machinery, ink and paper, just can't keep from swearing.

The big newspaper press will run smooth as silk for weeks. Then comes a time when the paper is late and everything is in an uproar. And that cranky blanket blank press will develop a streak of capriciousness that would try the temper of the very arch-angel.

The weather needs to change but a trifle and printing ink will display a hellishness of disposition one would never suspect in such seemingly innocuous material.

And what a loutype wouldn't cause you in the way of trouble when it gets into a recalcitrant frame of mind! Isn't worth while bothering about. Job's troubles were airy bubbles compared to those of an operator whose loutype machine is on the rampage.

Then it usually happens that when one is in the throes of an epidemic of mechanical trouble, a long comes an irate subscriber to bawl you out because you have mis-spelled his name.

Holy Mackerel! Who wouldn't swear—Brooks Bulletin

Repay Past Kindness

IN THE Fall of 1937 when local farmers were really in need, the apple growers of British Columbia, Ontario and the Maritimes came to the rescue with large quantities of apples, which local folks could not afford to buy, and which were highly appreciated. About a hundred tons of fine Canadian apples were donated for free distribution in this district—and that kindness may now be repaid. Today the apple growers are "up-against-it" just as badly as we were two years ago. Due to war conditions, they cannot sell their apples in Britain; and whole communities are facing the resultant hardship. A home market must be developed quickly. It can be done with your help. If this district buys a hundred tons; and other prairie communities do the same thing, the men who showed such kindness in our time of distress may be pulled out of the hole they are now in through no fault of their own.

Other Side of Hallowe'en

TWO WEEKS Ago, the Recorder published in these columns an editorial congratulating the young folks of this town on their good behavior Hallowe'en night. This week, we reprint an article taken from the Raymond Recorder, where apparently the youngsters ran wild. The article reads as follows:

"Fences are torn down, gates destroyed, screens demolished, and so on. What for? Is there a hatred carried on from month to month against everyone that finds expression in these things? It is anything but pleasant to start spending money after Hallowe'en to repair the damage done, especially when no one benefits, and it is all done with malicious intent. And don't think the marauders are not known. In nine cases out of ten the finger of the law could be set upon each one. But people refrain. It is Hallowe'en and the kids want fun. Yes, but if we allow this practice to go on uncurbed, where will it end? We laugh, and yet our own children may perpetrate a prank next year that will cost a life."

A few months ago we rather enjoyed the official communiques from the China-Japanese war, when each side would report heavy losses by the other, but their own forces were undamaged. We used to place the idea to a peculiar twist of the Oriental mind, but now the Allies and Germans are playing the same game apparently, and it all adds up to haloney.—Peace River Record.

THE CAREFUL DRIVER

Did you ever figure out how far you have to drive to pass another car that is travelling 30 miles an hour? Assuming your speed is 40 miles an hour, and allowing safe distance for turning out and coming back in to your own lane, you must travel 600 feet while the vehicle you are passing goes 450 feet.

This is equivalent to passing a stationary line of 18 trucks each 35 feet long, standing bumper to bumper. If the vehicle you want to pass is travelling 40 miles an hour and you pass it at 50 miles an hour, those distances are even greater. At those speeds you must travel 360 feet, while the other car goes 600 feet. In other words, it is equal to passing a stationary line of 38 average automobiles or 15 tractor-trailer units, each 40 feet long.

These facts point clearly to the necessity of knowing that there are no oncoming cars for a long distance ahead. They should also be convincing of the extreme folly of trying to pass an automobile or another truck on a hill or on a curve where vision is obstructed.

"Are you aware, sir, that what you contemplate is illegal?" asked the lawyer.

"Certainly," replied the client, "What do you suppose, I came to consult you for?"

Mrs. Newdriver (to garage mechanic): "They tell me I have a short circuit. Can you lengthen it while I wait?"

The Week In Edmonton

(By Dan Campbell)

Alberta's Capital City this week experienced one of the quietest civic election held in its history. Mayor Fry and his entire slate of candidates were returned without being seriously challenged by any other contestants. The war as a major attraction was blamed for public apathy in the contest.

Of far-reaching importance to persons on military service and their dependents was government's order declaring a moratorium on soldier's taxes and debts, announced as signed by the Lt. Governor. The order also provides for administration of a soldier's affairs if he is so will. "These regulations are extensive in effect and depart from the usual practice in that they provide a simple and inexpensive way for a soldier to have his estate managed by the public administrators during his enlistment," said Premier Abernethy.

Youth training projects have been organized at Beaverlodge, Irvine, Hinton, and Stander. It was stated here this week. One at Myraan is scheduled to open Nov. 15. Since inception of this Dominion-provincial scheme, some 7,000 rural boys and girls have received training in occupational, social and cultural projects.

An all-time record in wool production which places Alberta in the lead among provinces in this phase of agricultural activity, was stated this week. Announcing that the current year's production reached 4,000,000 lbs., Agriculture Minister D. B. Mullen said that the present sheep and lamb population is $24,000 head, an increase of over 200,000 in ten years and 500,000 in twenty years. During 1938, Alberta marketed 189,000 head of sheep and lambs, with 72 per cent grading "good handwroughts".

Appointment of Public Works Minister W. A. Fallow to the position on the Alberta Irrigation and Drainage Councils formerly occupied by Hon. Solon E. Low was made known this week. Hon. D. B. Mullen is another member. A third will probably be named when government formally appoints someone to the position of water resources director left vacant by the retirement of L. C. Charlesworth. His later post carries with it the management of the Lethbridge N. P. project.

Still another agricultural record is claimed by Alberta in the payment of $1,267,000 to sugar beet growers of the south. This is the largest payment in the province's history. It represents the initial portion of the $5.90 a ton on 215,000 tons of this year's estimated 270,000 ton crop. Last year's initial payment was $5.90 later brought to $6.69 a ton. Sugar sales are holding up well, officials of the refineries state.

Survey of foodstuffs costs is being made by the relief branch of the public works department, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross stated this week. Object is insure relief recipients enjoying an approved food supply. The survey is made quarterly, when reports from R.C.M.P. municipal secretaries and other officials are consulted, but owing to war conditions more care is being taken so that action for the next three months will be based on an accurate estimate of recipients needs.

Order closing of Wainwright buffalo park and slaughtering of the buffalo roused sportsmen's associations in all parts until it was disclosed that Elk Island park is to be doubled and Wainwright taken over by the military authorities.
